IWT / 2015

VI International Workshop on Telecommunications
Santa Rita do Sapucaí - Brazil

Call for Papers

The International Workshop on Telecommunications (IWT) is a biennial event organized by Instituto Nacional de Telecomunicações - INATEL (www.inatel.br), Brazil. The IWT'15 will be held at INATEL in Santa Rita do Sapucaí, Brazil, from 14th to 17th of June, 2015. Its main goal is to promote and discuss the latest innovations in the telecommunications area. It will be a great opportunity for all professionals to share ideas and learn more about the new developments and researches in telecommunications area. Besides its social program, the workshop will offer tutorials, technical sessions, plenary sessions and keynote sessions presented by internationally recognized experts, featuring a technical program with researchers and engineers from academia, industry, network operators and service providers. The IWT'15 organizing committee invites you to submit original papers addressing research topics of interest for presentation at the workshop and inclusion in the workshop proceedings.

Accepted and presented papers will be published in the conference proceedings and submitted to IEEE Xplore as well as other Abstracting and Indexing (A&I) databases.
